OPPOSE MONEY FOR LABOR.

Employment Agencies Aggrieved at Federal Bureau.

Protest against the appropriation of $200,000 for the United States Department of Labor in the Emergency Relief Bill that will come before the House next week, was voiced by the Executive Committee of the Metropolitan Employment Agencies at a meeting held at No. 645 4th Avenue last night.

The Metropolitan Employment Agencies comprise thirty-three private agencies throughout the city. According to G. H. He, Chairman of last night's meeting, further extension of the activities of the United States Department of Labor would exterminate all the private agencies.

All our efforts to co-operate with the United States department have been daily rejected," said Mr. He, "and now after we have offered our services, they wish to put us out of business."

AMERICAN RECRUIT WOMAN GOES TO INDIA TO START Y. W. C. A. TRAINING CENTRE

Miss ELIZABETH WILSON

Miss Elizabeth Wilson's War Work Brought Her Into Contact With Many.

Answering a call to special work in India, Miss Elizabeth Wilson, for many years head of the Secretarial Department of the National Y. W. C. A., and known best during the war as the organization's "Recruiting Woman," will sail to-morrow from New York to England on the Carmania of the Cunard Line.

Miss Wilson will attend a meeting in London the middle of January of the World's Committee of the International Y. W. C. A., when many special questions relating to future work will be discussed.

From England, Miss Wilson will proceed to India, where she goes to establish a training centre in Y. W. C. A. work for women of that country. During the war Miss Wilson, as head of the recruiting, came in contact with thousands of women. This service has prepared her especially to undertake the choosing of native Hindu women.

Miss Wilson has two homes—one in Montclair, N. J.; the other in Appleton, Wis. She is a graduate of Oxford, England, and also attended Lawrence and Appleton Colleges in this country. She is a Phi Beta Kappa and is the author of several books on women and their problems.

EX-KAISER'S STATUE GONE.

Life Sized Bronze Bust May Be in Creek.

AMERICAN ARMY OF OCCUPATION, Wednesday, Jan. 1 (Associated Press).—In Mayen, west of Coblenz, where the American 3d Army had its headquarters before moving to Coblenz, a life-sized bronze bust of former Emperor William for years stood in a little park near the centre of the town. During the war the bust was decorated with wreaths and the pedestal was swathed with the German flag. Always the little park was carefully tended.

With the abdication of the Emperor the civilians of Mayen (under the Emperor's bust) and then the Americans came. For three weeks, with Americans billeted in nearly every house in Mayen, the bust occupied its usual place.

With the coming of New Year's morning the bust and pedestal had disappeared. Down the road leading to the creek was a trail in the snow as if something had been dragged along at the end of a rope.

A receiver of all the property of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company having been appointed by the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York, the undersigned have, at the request of the holders of a large amount of the company's stock, consented to act as a committee for the protection of the interests of all stockholders who shall become parties to an agreement in course of preparation, which will be dated January 2, 1919.
